2,500 South Sea Islanders Become Actors!

"The South Sea" could not come to Hollywood—so Hollywood went to the South Sea.

Fernely Director, Frank Lloyd thus explained why he took a production company of record size on a 14,000-mile voyage to photograph scenes for Irving Thalberg's Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, "Mutiny on the Bounty," which comes to the Belle Glade theatre Sunday and Monday.

The native cast that Lloyd employed totaled 2,500 men, women and children. With the aid of Polynesian, he built two native villages as they existed one hundred and fifty years ago, the largest village capable of accommodating 200 families of Islanders.

In the face of adverse weather conditions, he returned successfully with 50,000 feet of picture film, invaluable for its rare scenic beauty, and 30,000 feet of sound film.

When the company left the United States on the unusual "to-cation" jaunt, more than 100 tons of equipment were taken along. The tonnage was augmented on the return voyage by native "props" to be used in the picture.

These included full-grown palm and breadfruit trees, mighty war canoes and ten smaller canoes. Also, scores of other packing cases were filled with native tools, bowls, weapons, cocoa palm leaves, coconuts of all sizes and hundreds of other odds and ends that

ATTORNEY WILL TRY TO UNSEAT TWO-JOB GROUP

Gainesville Attorney Offers for Legislature On This Platform

GAINESVILLE, Mar. 6.—(FNS)—Joe C. Jenkins, local attorney who for four months has led the fight to dislodge a group of so-called two-job men, and attracted statewide attention, checked last week by a Supreme Court decision which holds that Senator T. G. Fitch, a member of the legislature can hold his job as a candidate for the State Fencing Commission, met the decision by taking his bid into the ring as a candidate for the legislature from Alachua county.

Satisfied that the citizens and taxpayers cannot hope to stop the two-job practice through court procedure, Jenkins has moved up his bid to take the fight to the legislature, and states:

"This opinion permits a senator who served in the 1935 session of the Florida legislature to continue to draw a salary of $3,000.00 per year from a job created by the action of the legislature in which he served, and this opinion permits this senator to draw a salary of $20.00 per month of tax money appropriated by the self-same legislature.

"It is difficult to determine from this decision whether the supreme court has sought to interpret the real meaning of the constitution, four causes of which are aimed at preventing the pernicious evil and possibly despotism of the two-job kind, or whether the court in this particular case, has rendered a purely technical decision on the legal remedy of Quo Warranto issued therein.

"A Schenley Whiskey of Character"

This is the famous "Double Rich" straight whiskey of Kentucky, made by old time Kentucky distillers the good old Kentucky way.

From Dixie to Alaska... folks are putting that real deliciousness in whiskey drinks which the old-time Southerners put in theirs, by using fine Kentucky straight whiskey, Schenley's CREAM OF KENTUCKY

"I have fought for the past four months to dislodge these twenty-two job holders by the only possible legal remedy available to a citizen and taxpayer, by injunction and by Quo Warranto. I am thoroughly convinced that the framers of our constitution did their best, in the simplest language at their command, to protect our state from the despotism of a governor-controlled legislature. I had hoped that we could obtain relief from our courts, but if there is no relief in our courts it is high time that our citizens arise in their wrath and write a new amendment into our constitution that will prohibit any member of our legislature from accepting even a job as 'waste-basket emptier' with a fat salary attached to it, by appointment of the governor or by the executive department.

"I would like to have the privilege of introducing such a resolution into the 1937 legislature, and here and now offer as a candidate for the legislature, subject to the Democratic primaries.

"There are a number of other matters of vital importance to our citizens and taxpayers on which I shall make myself perfectly clear in a formal announcement at a later date, but it seems to me that the possible meaning of this recent decision of our supreme court is of sufficient importance to this matter, immediately to the attention of the citizens of Gainesville and Alachua county."

B. P. W. C. MET ON TUESDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Jennie Butler and Mrs. Frank Bass were joint hostesses at the home of Mrs. Butler Tuesday night to members of the Everglades Business and Professional Women's club. The Butler home was decorated with spring flowers artistically and colorfully arranged about the room.

A routine business session was conducted during which time it was pointed out that the club will sponsor St. Patrick's day dance at the Legion pavilion on March 12. Each member will be called upon to bid in selling tickets for the affair, it was said. Each member drew a secret pal, the identity of which will not be made known until the birthday party of the club next year.

After the business meeting adjourned the guests were invited to the dining room where they were served a salad course followed by ice cream and cake in the St. Patrick day colors. The members present were: Mrs. Nola Dragon, Miss Pauline Hill, Mrs. Annie Calloway, Miss Elizabeth Caraway, Miss Myrtle Armstrong, Mrs. Ora Powell, Mrs. Georgia Lovette, Mrs. Cleo Douthett, Mrs. Jack Barrett, Mrs. Estelle Saunders, Mrs. Ruby Bailey, Miss Sadie Todd, Mrs. Oretta Kierchman, Miss Alma Woodward, Mrs. Jennie Butler and Mrs. Frank Bass. Miss Ann Conley, Mrs. J. V. Thomas and Mrs. H. M. McIntosh were invited guests.

Be sure to register for the primary.
